

Natural History displays

Work begins on dismantling the Natural History displays at Letchworth Museum, cleaning the specimens, and packing them to go into storage until the new museum opens. Here, Sian and Suzie are cleaning some of the squirrels – a grey one and one of our special black squirrels!

Cleaning squirrels at Letchworth Museum

Share this:

Email

Print

Facebook

Twitter

Pocket

WhatsApp

Pinterest

Reddit